

AAUW & DCCC Honors STEM Scholars

On May 3, 2017 the Eastern Delaware County Branch of AAUW in collaboration with Delaware County Community College honored freshman girls from each of the 15 Delaware County public high schools as STEM Scholars. This is the first year for this recognition award. The STEM Scholars were selected by their respective faculties as freshman girls excelling in science, technology, engineering and/or mathematics and who express an interest in a STEM career(s).

The 2017 STEM Scholars

High School	Awardee
Academy Park HS	Cheyenne Phillips
Chester HS	Tamai L. Brown
Chichester HS	Talia Snyder
Garnet Valley HS	Misato Shimizu
Haverford HS	Olha Horyn

Interboro HS	Lillian Huynh
Marple Newtown HS	Jordan Pedagna
Penn Wood HS	Laura Mailani Hobbs
Penncrest HS	Morgan Leigh Ferry
Radnor HS	Sasha Houck Barbara Civitella
Ridley HS	Piper Graefe
Springfield HS	Sarah Lofland
Strath Haven HS	Erin Folk Grace Raup
Sun Valley HS	Jacqueline Oldham
Upper Darby HS	Catherine Vivo

The award program was held at Delaware County Community College, Marple Campus in the STEM Center Auditorium and along with the recognition awards the audience heard remarks from the keynote speaker, Terri Cooper Smith, Civil Engineer, Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and participated in a tour of the STEM Center.